

ADVANTAGES

- you don't have much work with heating (central heating)
- it is usually near the city centre
- no garden work
- buying a flat is cheaper
- services are nearby
- it is comfortable if the owner works/travels a lot

Living in a flat

DISADVANTAGES

- small/ less privacy
- the neighbours can be noisy sometimes
- it is difficult to keep a bigger pet
- no garden
- thin walls

ADVANTAGES

- it is a life style
- you have a garden
- you can sit in the garden/do gardening/keep a garden party/lie in the Sun
- you can have bigger place, the neighbours are farther away
- usually quiet and calm
- the children can play in safety
- you don't have to park on the street

Living in a house

DISADVANTAGES

- you have to deal with the heating of the house in winter
- more expensive
- there are more tasks
- you have to commute from the green belt to the city centre

ADVANTAGES

- you can have a garden or pets/domesticated animals
- you usually have got a big territory
 - it is usually a quiet place

Living in a village

DISADVANTAGES

- there aren't a lot of shops
- people have to commute
- less shopping and entertainment facilities
- less schools and jobs
- agricultural work

- the surroundings can be cleaner and less polluted

Living in a city

ADVANTAGES

- you can find everything you want
- there are hospitals, police stations, fire stations
- there are a lot of schools, parks, shops, a mall
- there are a lot of people
- there are green belts

DISADVANTAGES

- very noisy/crowded
- the night is never 'dark'
- polluted sometimes

